S.A.R.P. REVEALS ITS 2021-2022 BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Saskatchewan — The Saskatchewan Association of Recreation Professionals (S.A.R.P.) is excited to announce the 2021-2022 Board of Directors and staff.

S.A.R.P.'s Board of Directors for the 2021-2022 year are: Chantelle Erdman - Chair (Regina), Lara Schroeder - Vice Chair (Saskatoon), Tara Pedersen (Assiniboia), Helen Meekins (Naicam), Rebecca Newson (Saskatoon), and Brennen Ronovsky (Moose Jaw). These six S.A.R.P. Members are located across the province and bring 100 years of recreation experience to the table.

"As the Chair for 2021/2022 for our professional association, I look forward to the progress that has better positioned S.A.R.P. with more effective systems and our transition to a new and fresh organizational shift. Having a practice round in the last year as the vice chair, I plan to continue with the good work our Board of Directors identified at our midterm review of our strategic plan. I feel we have a better understanding of how we can continue to offer greater membership engagement by building a stronger value to our members and overall a greater presence with our continued initiatives to advance our profession and our association," said Chantelle Erdman, S.A.R.P. Chair.

S.A.R.P.'s Board of Directors serve a two year term and play a crucial part in advancing the recreation profession through advocacy, education and networking.

Recreation professionals are formally educated, trained and certified. With their passion, core body of knowledge and experience these professionals deliver programs and services in a variety of settings such as communities, schools, acute care, rehabilitation centres, long-term care facilities and the Jim Pattison Children's Hospital. These professionals also manage large infrastructure used by residents of Saskatchewan, such as multi-purpose centres, aquatic facilities, soccer centres, parks, trails, and open spaces.
